C&J Equipment Manufacturing to Visit Farmington One Stop

Farmington, NM. May 11, 2007. The New Mexico Workforce Connection, Northern Area, has invited C&J Equipment Manufacturing's Human Resources Manager, Sandy Carson, to give a presentation at their Farmington One Stop. C&J is a full-service fabrication company for the oil and gas industry that has been building reliable equipment for their customers since 1978.

The employer presentation will take place at 10:00 a.m. on Wednesday, May 23. Ms. Carson will share what C&J is looking for in an ideal employee as well as what jobs they have open at this time, which range from equipment assemblers to code welders. After the presentation, Ms. Carson will answer questions and interview applicants for potential positions at their company. Applicants should bring a resume, if available, and dress professionally. A career development specialist will be available to assist those who do not have a resume or would like to update it to apply for a current job opening.

The Farmington One Stop holds free WIA Orientations every Monday at 9:00 a.m. and Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. to assist job seekers in the Farmington area. Job seekers will benefit from these orientations as they learn such skills as how to conduct job searches, create or update resumes, apply for jobs online, and interview and impress a potential employer.
